09:30 to: CatPet
Hello All

09:50 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT
quite true... there are quite a bit of refugees from Vietnam keep on coming into Hong Kong

10:09 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT
and in the US, that would be people from Mexico

10:34 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT
or of course... notably that could be some athletes from Cuba

11:23 to: Clarissa
Yes, there are displaced people in most countries OTs work in!

13:00 to: Dan Johnson displaced people in every country... all relative and possibly transient displacement?

13:20 to: Robert Pereira
'Filling' population gaps in regional and rural areas with refugees is problematic due to little systemic support

14:41 to: Brock Cook

thought provoking Rob!

14:51 to: Anita Hamilton

Yes, it's like they are "spare parts"

15:13 to: Clarissa

@Dan, check out the UNHCR country profiles - see how many are displaced FROM & TO any given country

15:19 to: Anita Hamilton

Yes

16:27 to: Clarissa

@Rob, it can work well, it can be a disaster, so occupational elements might just be a big be a mediating factor. . .worthy of research!

16:36 to: Anita Hamilton

Ann-Le, am I on the right slide?

16:36 to: Ailsa

hi Pauline

16:42 to: Robert Pereira

"Developing potential and using it" through occupation. Love it Anne-Le

18:12 to: Clarissa

So true re structure; I know people who are still detained, switching day/night to escape world and demands of interacting with people whilst so distressed

18:58 to: Ailsa

has this frozen for anyone?

19:07 to: CatPet

yes

19:08 to: petraschwab

yes

19:11 to: Anita Hamilton

is it back

19:13 to: Nicola

yes, back now

19:14 to: Anita Hamilton

it is here

19:16 to: Brock Cook

is the video slowing it down?

19:19 to: Ailsa

ok think its catching up -let us know

19:49 to: Merrolee Penman

starting to get squirrel language so its catching up..

19:50 to: Robert Pereira

Much clearer

19:58 to: Brock Cook

beauty :)

20:19 to: Ailsa

:O

22:01 to: Ailsa

Anne-le do you want Anita to move on the slides?

22:24 to: Merrolee Penman

Rob I'm moving to the next room in a couple of mins.. come when you are ready..."-)

23:04 to: Clarissa (UK) - @clissa89

(yay Rob, all the best!)

23:45 to: Robert Pereira

Great presentation so far Anne-Le. I look forward to watching the recording.

24:33 to: Clarissa

interpreters often end up displaced for their role with "the other side"

26:48 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT

what do you mean by that Clarissa?

29:39 to: Clarissa

Eg An educated man in Afghanistan risks his life, and the life of his family to interpret armed forces or UN. Troops & UN officials go home, but the bulls-eye on an interpreter's head remains as far a s extremists are concerned.

29:39 to: Clarissa

31:01 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT

wow... that's quite something... very hard position indeed for these folks

31:52 to: Ailsa

do asylum seekers face the same issues in inner city venues?

32:07 to: Nicola

Thanks very much for the great presentation.

32:21 to: Clarissa

Hi Anne-Le, Great presentation, thank you! I'd love to know how mainstream society engages to create occupational opportunities. . .or not?

32:38 to: Ailsa

hi Laura we are just taking questions now

32:43 to: Clarissa

sorry, haven't configured mic!

32:57 to: Clarissa

(see above Q)

33:35 to: Anita Hamilton

We can't hear you Anne-Le

33:40 to: Anne-Le Morville

can we hear me now?

33:51 to: Anita Hamilton

yes

33:52 to: Clarissa

yes :)

34:53 to: Clarissa

thanks for that response

34:57 to: CatPet

Great Presentation...Good Night from USA.

35:23 to: Ailsa

35:53 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT

36:31 to: Ailsa

:(#Bill

36:52 to: Ailsa

hi Bridegette we are just taking questions now

37:36 to: Sharlene (Ontario, Canada)

Thank you for such a fascinating presentation from a unique place! Goodnight! I'll try to catch up with this later at lunchtime. (working tomorrow!)

37:36 to: Clarissa

Anne-Le, are they connected to the online world?

38:07 to: Ailsa

bye Sharlene

39:00 to: Clarissa

Wow, very isolated if they can't Skype their loved ones

39:17 to: Sharlene (Ontario, Canada)

bye!

40:02 to: Pauline USA

Thanks for the opportunity to review slides. Now some of presentation makes more sense. Interesting thoughts and setting.

40:08 to: Ailsa

Hi Anne-Le - is there a problem in Denmark when people leave rural areas and move to inner cities? In the UK asylum seekers are often 'dumped' in high rise blocks which is very lonely and a huge occupational deprivation problem

40:08 to: Ailsa

ational deprivation problem

40:14 to: Clarissa

In Australia, detainees on Nauru have just been limited to 15min internet so they can't get the word out about their off-shore detention. Choice between family or protest.

41:00 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT

think in Hong Kong, it maybe worse... for vietnamese refugees who live in refugee camps

41:10 to: Bill Wong @BillWongOT

though i can't verify for sure since i have never been to one

41:17 to: Clarissa

@Ailsa, this is true. People can get "lost". I have had men tell me that they miss the social support and routine of detention.

41:44 to: Ailsa

:/ @Clarissa

41:45 to: Clarissa

@Bill, interesting! How "rural"/ far away would the camps be?

42:40 to: Ailsa

Hi Agnes, we are just finishing off with questions now

42:58 to: Clarissa

Anne-Le, can the fellows access mainstream activities in the community like sport, or local library etc?

43:48 to: Ailsa

Hi Carol we are just finishing off with questions now

43:49 to: Clarissa (UK) - @clissa89

Hi Carol!!

43:57 to: Helen OTUK
